

I am a marketing & communications executive. I am Sharon.

I am a craftsman in my line of work because I pay great attention to details. Frequent communication with colleagues is also crucial in my role. As a custodian of the Chubb brand, I often guide and provide advice to colleagues to familiarise them with our brand.

I look forward to the constant opportunities to learn new things in my role. Whilst it might be difficult at the beginning, the satisfaction that I receive in return makes the effort worthwhile.
